GROWS ORANGES IN COFFEE COUNTY

FARMER FINES THAT SATSUMA A VARIETY OF FRUIT THRIVES WELL

Enterprise, Dec. 2.—A new industry, which is attracting considerable attention and interest among the farmers of this county is orange raising.

Two years ago, Young M. Edwards, a citizen of Alvin, Tex., sent his brother here a few orange plants for him to set out as an experiment. The experiment proved successful and the plants thrived. Last winter Mr. Edwards came to Alabama and disposed of a large number of his orange plants in this part of Coffee county. The plants seemed to thrive quite well in this climate. They are of the Satsuma variety, a seedless orange grafted onto a root which causes them to shed their foliage in the cold part of the year, and thus become better able to endure the cold season.

Almost all of the farmers of this section are interested in this new industry and many are trying orange culture or themselves this winter. Mr. Edwards is the owner of a grove of 10,000 trees of this variety, located near Alvin, Tex., and he is of the opinion that they will thrive quite as well here as are here, one bore thirty-nine oranges this year and the other fourteen. The fruit was well matured and was sweet.

Of the 2-year-old plants which

STRICUSLY BURNED THEN NEARLY FROZEN

NIGHTWATCHMAN, BURNED BY EXPLOSION, LAY IN COLD FOR HOURS

Atlanta, Ga., December 2.—Edwin H. Anderson, 33 years of age, of 334 Crew street, night watchman at the Gaiety hotel at the corner of Peachtree and Ponce de Leon avenue, was horribly burned in a rather mysterious manner early this morning and is now at the Grady hospital suffering excruciating agony.

Anderson was on duty at the new hotel building, which is not completed and about 1 o'clock in the morning he became cold and started poking a fire in a coal stove which was on the ground. He does not know just what the trouble was, but the stove exploded in some manner and he was hurled to the ground by the shock and severely burned about the face, hands and arms.

Then for three hours and a half the nightwatchman, who, owing to the nature of his injuries, must have suffered excruciating torture, lay on the cold ground near the spot where the accident occurred, until after 6 o'clock morning at 11 o'clock.

The Need of Houses

Should the legislature meet, and that seems inevitable, and should it pass the local option bill, and that's a dead certainty, and should Dothan and Houston county rise up as one man and a boy and vote the people's rights back into their loving arms, which is yet to be considered, then we would like to suggest that Dothan will need more business houses. Nearly all of the people who are using business houses in this town will want to continue using them, for the same purpose they are now being used for, with few exceptions, and there will be no room for a "Will Regulated."

There haven't been dwelling houses enough in this town for some time. Families are boarding that would prefer to rent a house if they could get one, but they are not to be had. Tents are rather unsatisfactory as dwellings, but if things keep moving along like they are now, somebody will have to go into tents, or we will all have to go into tent borders.

There are but few more desirable vacant lots close up in town. One has to get out further, which makes property worth more on new streets and in sections of the town that have not been building up.

We have an idea that as soon as we get through buying Christmas things, and then get over Christmas dissipation, that somebody will put a force of hands at work building a few hundred dwellings.

About Shopping.

And while you are down looking over the great Christmas bargains to be sacrificed during the next two or three weeks, don't forget the day of accounting. If you make bills they will fall due, just like notes do. If you pay cash when you make the purchase, you can forget it, and you will look the first day of January in the face with a clear conscience.

The merchants gladly sell you on time, and would even give you two month's credit if you wanted it, but that is not the way to buy Christmas goods. Buy the goods, and pay cash for them if you can. It lessens the work on the clerks; it lessens book work, and it lessens worry during the holidays.

You know credit is easy in this town—too easy, in fact and most anybody can start out here and in one hard day's shopping run up a bill that cannot be paid during one hard year's work. If he has an average credit, he can make a bill that it will take two men one year to pay.

Higher Living.

You could at one time, about this season of the year, walk out to a wagon on the street most any day and buy a thousand pounds of pork at 5 cents a pound. Try it now, and see how you come out. The pork is here alright, more than ever, but it is bringing more, and you have to be a close buyer to get it at 9 cents.

Prices are proportionately high. Many people suffer from the highest prices. This is a fact for most people, as well as for the big end and the small ones come when it will rather be to raising the price of food than to be for.

Of course it is costing more to live than it ever did but it is worth more to live now than was then, fifteen and twenty years ago. A man then thought he was getting pretty near everything out of life that it contained, but he was just grazing around the edges. Life is not what it used to be, and we are glad of it. If life was what it used to be, we would—Takes too long to tell it.

Grouchy.

Ex-Chief Austin, of Birmingham's police force is out in an article in which he makes out a case against the city of Birmingham, and the violators of the liquor laws in particular. Not so much in particular, either, for he calls no names, but makes a general charge.

You ever notice how seriously an ex-30-and-so takes life?

There are men who never get over it. Once let a city, country or state honor a man with an office, and once the same people prizes him loose with a jummy, and his views on public question gets weighty and serious. Birmingham has been keeping ex-Chief Austin on its payroll for a long time, and he talks like a man with an inflamed grouch.

Poor Stories

The average reader thinks when he reads a magazine article that isn't just to his liking, that the fault is his own. He feels that the magazine pays a man to read stories before it accepts them and he feels that the copyreader ought to be a competent judge. So when a poorly written story is found, the magazine isn't blamed, but the reader. This rule won't work. Some of the high-browed magazines are publishing stories that wouldn't be accepted by the average Sunday paper—gratis.

When a reader hits a story like that he ought to burn the magazine, and get his pen and go for the editor who allowed it ever to get in print.

We are reading many poor ones these days in the best magazines.

The hundreds of publications to go out for 1911 with the new federal census, will be a failure. A supplement will have to be issued, along next spring, to give the data that should have been in hand long ago. Census Director Durand probably knows his business, but we could have assisted him in picking a corpse of clerks that would have had that job finished long ago. The government should assure the clerks that other jobs will be ready for them when they have finished the work, so they could go along and get done.

We are having almost enough cold weather now to get used to.

Ordinarily we have a couple of cold days, or maybe three, and then we lay off our coats and wraps and come out, like dead o' summer. It is these warm days in the winter that make people get so cold and cold cures. The weather man hasn't offered much encouragement for warmer weather.

Mexico's little disturbance will not amount to enough to create a demand for the big hats.

Goodness knows, though, that something ought to happen to change the ranging style of hats for young men. They have been a sight to behold for a couple of years, but their sisters made up in quality what was lacking.

Dr. Cook has told us that we have suspected—that he wasn't quite right in his head at times.

Before you can get your appetite on straight, Christmas will be here and little preparation for it.

It is alright to say that but 17 shopping days remain, but if you are interested in the contest you haven't but 15 days longer to get tickets.

It would be a hard matter to settle on a way to pass off the long winter hours, but the fact the Congressional Record will soon come to our relief.

Mrs. D. Gilkerson, 326 Ingles Ave., Fountstown, Ohio, gained wisdom by experience. "My little girl had a severe cold and cougher almost continuously. My sister recommended Foley's Honey and Tar. Since then I always keep a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar in the house. Accept no substitutes. For sale by N. H. McCallum.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one unrivaled cure that science has been able to cure in all its history, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and securing nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Truck and Fruit for Sale

We have for quick sale, one of the best improved truck and fruit farms in the state. There are 400 bearing peach trees, twelve bearing selected grape vines, a half acre seuppernong arbor, fifteen very large fig trees, nearly two acres in strawberries, and other fruits. The owner has planted an acre or more in onions and is now putting in cabbage, etc., is about two miles from the city limits and is just large enough for one man to attend. See us at once.

We have a bargain in vacant city lots; for instance, 270 feet east front on Bell street, one block west of Alice and one and a half blocks north of West Main and about 200 feet deep. There are five lots on this block and we can sell the entire five for $800 and give terms on half of it.

Here's another good proposition: ten acres in a square lying on both sides of an extension of Lena street south, perfectly level and very fertile, one of the best subdivision locations in the city, adjoining property held for $250 an acre, and we offer this ten acres for $1200 cash for a few days.

We have also some excellent bay acreage on St. Andrews Bay and now is the time to buy, when the government work begins in earnest, prices will soar.

ENGAGEMENT TONIGHT

The W. L. Swan Show is at the Elma Augusta Evans' at American place, to a full house. The large audience which was present notwithstanding the cold weather, enjoyed a splendid production. The Swan Show will close on Monday night offering the standard western drama in four acts. The Young Brothers are the stars of the production. The two black comedians, "The Two Black Comedians" and "The Two Black Comedians" are two of the funniest men in the country.

The Ladies Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church held a most delightful meeting last Monday afternoon. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather we had very good attendance.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

Mrs. Blackshear, Blount Battle Blinn and Brown were hostesses for the occasion and had taken great pains to make the church as bright and attractive as possible with beautiful flowers.

They had a splendid program, which was well rendered. The subject was "Our City Missions" and several very interesting papers and tracts were read, interspersed with appropriate songs and prayers.

Mrs. Abernathy read a splendid article on "Our Mission Work in the Large Cities." The little poem read by Mrs. Harmon and the song "Abide with Me," sung by four of our ladies were very much enjoyed.

Mrs. Blackshear in a very interesting manner told us about her visit to the emigrant station while in New York during the past summer. At the close of the meeting each lady present was given a bunch of lovely white chrysanthemums, with a familiar scripture quotation pinned to each one, and we were all invited into the adjoining room, where we were served with delicious tea and sandwiches, which proved a most happy ending to our mission meeting.

We desire to thank the committee for the delightful manner in which they conducted the meeting which proved both instructive and interesting.

Mrs. R. T. Hughes returned to her home in Esto, this morning after a visit to relatives in the city. She was accompanied by Chisel and Mrs. J. L. Domingus who will be her guests for a few days.

BELLED BUZZARD VISITS HOUSTON FARM

Many a person has been accused of not possessing enough sense to "bell a buzzard" but Sunday it developed that someone in this section of the world on some section, was wise enough to place a bell on one so that it would attract attention when one of the huge black birds a roplaned over the farm of Mr. W. J. Ayers of Rt. 1 Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Ayers were out on the road Sunday afternoon when they were attracted by the sound of a bell coming from a distant field. They at once began to climb their road house, through the chain's gate, but for a long time were unable to find anything but the heavy noise of the bell which was being rung. They then decided to go back to the house and telephone the police, but when they returned they found the bell had been rung by a man in a field. The man was unknown to the Ayers, but he had a car which was a 1916 Buick, and he was wearing a hat which was a 1916 Buick. The man was wearing a hat which was a 1916 Buick. The man was wearing a hat which was a 1916 Buick.

By and by, as the story goes, the neighborhood was aroused by a modern Paul Revere, and much consternation was in that section, as, from mouth to mouth, the news was spread that some Wilbur Wright looking thing was up in the air, with a bell tied on the anchor, was invading those regions.

As the unknown flyer circled a lofty pine tree about a mile away, with the same ease and grace that the man bird made the loop around the Statue of Liberty at the recent aviation meet in New York, things looked modern to the grandstand.

Nearer and nearer it drew to the watchers, until it was directly over them, then with the great rapid ascension, the height of every aviator's ambition, it gracefully flew to the ground—the varmint with a bell on, its sweet whines still floating on the air to the ears of the audience. How ever the sound had to go to the back end of the ears, the front having been "right-about-face."

WHY NOT FIX THE SIDEWALKS?

The paving is now finished, and the sidewalks in the business part of town are badly in need of attention. There is one walk on South St. Andrews street, between Main and Crawford, where dirt was piled out when the street grading was done. This dirt was piled on the sidewalk and is still there. Brickbats are lying all over it, and if one wants to walk up that side of the street it is necessary to get in the middle of the street for the sidewalk is impassable. You cannot roll a baby carriage along it, and the people are taking the street instead of trying to make it along this way. This is not the only place. They are in bad shape all over the business portion of the city. This is the time to figure on having something done for them.

A FEAST THAT FA

The Story of a Raccoon Not Served For Breakfast

In the old days, and not old either, the custom of teachers "boarding around" was a usual thing in country districts, though a custom which teachers themselves did not like. It is doubtful if they had as hard a time as a schoolmaster who described his experience in the New Englander for 1817. The article was written by Leonard Apthorp, an undergraduate of Bowdoin. The young schoolmaster was to receive $15 a month and his board.

From the first day I was at board on a school, and at the mercy of a close association, he writes. One day the dinner consisted of a single pig, which they called a pig and five sausages, which in a shrunk to the size of pipe. There were five of us at the table. A few days afterward on a turn from school my eyes were lighted by the sight of an animal had never seen before. It was a raccoon, which the young man, a than, had killed and brought in triumph. When skinned he was found to be one entire mass of fat of a most delicate whiteness. I overjoyed and went to bed dreaming of delicious steaks which morrow would bring.

Long before daylight I heard family stirring, and the alert quick footsteps and the opening and shutting of doors gave assurance of the coming day.

I was soon ready for breakfast and when seated at the table served that the place of John was vacant.

A Home Institution

Our October and November business was phenomenal, far beyond our expectations. The patronage accorded us, we believe, is due to our original policy, one price to all, and that the lowest. We have made sales in the face of keen competition and our one price policy has, in nearly every instance, won out over the old foggy system of pricing a piano at $450 then cutting the price step by step until it reaches a legitimate price, thereby causing the average piano purchaser to think he has saved at least fifty per cent on his purchase.

If you live in Dothan we would be pleased to have you call at our ware rooms and see our line of pianos, whether you purchase or not. We can assure you that none of our salesmen will dog your footsteps and annoy you simply because you are a prospective piano purchaser. If you live out of the city and can't come we will gladly send you catalogues and any other information that you may wish. If you can come to town we will gladly pay your railroad fare.

Our line of pianos embraces such well known makes as the artistic Strick & Zeidler, the old reliable Emerson, the sensational Bush & Land, the climate tested R. S. Haward, and the famous Kohler & Campbell and others.
